This short wig offers textured layers which adds to the many looks that can be achieved with this wig. The flexi-fibre technology means that temperature controlled appliances (eg. straighteners up to 140°) can be used on this wig – as with all the styles in the Sentoo Premium Plus range.

Out of all of the Trendco ranges, we have to say that the cap construction of this range is our favourite – its lightweight monofilament top and lace front mean that it has the appearance of your own hair growing out of your scalp. It is also completely hand tied which creates that soft velvety feel and the cap even has anti-slip PU strips ensuring extra security and comfort.

Childrens Range

Trendco's range even extends into wigs specifically designed for children suffering from hair loss. All of the children's range offer a monofilament top or parting, which ensures that the most natural look is achievable as it will give the appearance of hair coming through your own scalp. Additionally, the cap sizes offer a more petite fitting as opposed to the average size of a wig cap so that you don't need to worry about the wig slipping off. The cap style provides maximum comfort and the monofilament top makes the wigs very breathable. So even when children are being children, they don't need to have any worries regarding their wig "falling off" or them overheating.

Ryder

When the new Amore range was introduced of June last year, this is the one that really caught our attention. This style exudes femininity and playfulness. If you want the timeless look of a French actress – think Anna Karina, then this wig is for you. The soft full fringe frames the face and the beavhy waves add to the flirty look of the piece. The monofilament top and lace front provides the most realistic look so you never have to worry about anyone noticing that your new, gorgeous hair is infact a wig.
